

Lag selection uses only the 64×16 future-Y training labels

113 prespecified candidates per named channel; no validation, evaluation or oracle values enter selection.
Each panel has its own y-axis scale. Peaks are observed training statistics; selection success is not a data QC gate.